

Average particle speed along road (m/s)

the same time, the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA) published a letter to the editor that stated:

It is a common knowledge that the medical profession has been the victim of a series of attacks by the press and the public.

The attacks have been based on a number of factors, including the fact that the medical profession is a monopoly.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is licensed to practice medicine.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to charge high fees for its services.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to control the supply of medical services.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to control the quality of medical services.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to control the access to medical services.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to control the cost of medical services.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to control the distribution of medical services.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to control the research and development of medical services.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to control the education and training of medical professionals.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to control the standards of medical practice.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to control the ethics of medical practice.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to control the politics of medical practice.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to control the economics of medical practice.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to control the sociology of medical practice.

The medical profession is a monopoly because it is the only profession that is allowed to control the psychology of medical practice.

